In loving remembrance of our dear ones

Yizkor

The word Yizkor means “to remember” and refers to a special prayer said on behalf of family members who have passed away. Yizkor is an opportunity for living relatives to have an elevating, spiritual impact on the soul of a departed loved one. For the person saying Yizkor, it can be a very important, reflective moment.

The Yizkor prayer is recited during the synagogue prayer service on Yom Kippur and the holidays of Passover, Shavuot and Sukkot.

One begins saying Yizkor on the first holiday after the person passed away. Yizkor can be recited on behalf of any relative, though people are most meticulous to say it on behalf of those for whom kaddish is said: parents, children, siblings and spouses.

It is customary for one who will be reciting Yizkor, to light a candle at home before sunset at the beginning of a holiday on which Yizkor is said. If Yizkor will be recited on Saturday, the candle must be lit on Friday afternoon before sunset.

There are two parts to Yizkor: 1) A brief prayer for the departed and 2) A commitment to give charity (tzedakah) on behalf of the deceased person’s soul. In addition to a monetary donation, one can also commit to donate time to a charitable cause. (from www.mykaddish.com)

REFLECTIONS BEFORE THE MEMORIAL SERVICE

As we recite Yizkor prayers, let our senses and imagination help us to remember. For whom are we saying Yizkor today? Can we imagine their faces before our eyes? See their smile: visualize how they might be standing if they were next to us? Do we recall the sound of their voices? Hear their words as we stand in prayer? Feel their presence in this moment? In our mind, in our heart, allow a conversation between us to unfold? What needs to be communicated this year? What is the message we need to hear today? What are the silent prayers of the heart? What remains unspoken? Speak. Listen.

Rabbi Simcha Paul Raphael

We turn our thoughts to yesterday...
To a world that lives only in our memory.
As we recall the days gone by, we know the past is irretrievable
Yet – through the gift of memory, we recapture treasured moments and images.
We are thankful for the happiness we knew with those no
longer here,
with whom we lived and laughed and loved.
We praise the Eternal, wellspring of life, who links
yesterday to tomorrow.
We affirm that despite all the tragedy bound up with living,
it is still good to be alive.
We understand that there can be no love without loss, no
joy without sorrow.
May we have the courage to accept the all of life –
the love and the loss –
the joy and the sorrow, as we remember them.

We are mortal and our days are as grass. We flourish like a flower of the field. The wind passes over it and it is gone, and its place knows it no more. But Your love, Eternal God, rests forever on those who revere You, and our righteousness extends to future generations.

sun shall not harm you by day, nor the moon by night.
The Eternal will guard you from all evil, and protect your being. The Eternal will guard you, coming and going,
from this time forth, and forever.*

PSALM 23

Eternal God, You are my shepherd,
I shall not want.
You make me lie down in green pastures.
You lead me beside still waters.
You restore my soul.
You lead me in the right paths for the sake of your Name.
Even when I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I shall I fear no evil,
For You are with me;
With rod and staff You comfort me.
You have set a table before me in the presence of my enemies;
You have anointed my head with oil, my cup overflows.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life,
And I shall dwell in the house of the Eternal God forever.

Giver of life, our times are in Your hand. One generation comes into the world to be blessed with days of peace and safety; another goes through the valley of the shadow enduring the cruelties of persecution and war. Heartbreaking have been the times that have fallen to our lot, O God. We have lived through years of tyranny and destruction; we are schooled in sorrow and acquainted with grief. We have seen the just defeated, the innocent driven from their homes, and the righteous suffer a martyrdom as merciless as any ages have witnessed.

We pray to You, O source of mercy, that your Torah, to which these Your children bore witness in life and in death, may come to glow with a renewed light in the human soul; that, remembering them, we may sanctify Your name in all the world. Thus will their memory become an enduring blessing to all Your children: zoch-rim v'lo nish-kach, we remember and we will not forget.

WE REMEMBER THEM

In the rising of the sun and in its going down,
we remember them.

In the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter:
we remember them.

In the opening buds and in the rebirth of spring,
we remember them, zoch-rim v'lo nish-kach.

In the blueness of the sky and in the warmth of summer;
we remember them, zoch-rim v'lo nish-kach.

In the rustling of leaves and in the beauty of autumn,
we remember them.

In the beginning of the year and when it ends,
we remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength,
we remember them - we remember them, zoch-rim v'lo nish-kach.

When we are lost and sick at heart,
we remember them-we remember them, zoch-rim v'lo nish-kach.

When we have joys, we yearn to share, we remember them-
we remember them, we remember them, zoch-rim v'lo nish-kach.

So long as we live, they too shall live,
for they are now a part, a part of us,
as we remember them.

May God remember forever my loved ones....who have gone to their eternal rest.
May they be at one with the One who is life eternal. May the beauty of their lives shine for evermore, and may my life always bring honor to their memory.

IN MEMORY OF A FATHER

Your memory, my dear father, fills my soul at this solemn hour. It revives in me thoughts of the love and friendship which you bestowed upon me. The thought of you inspires me to a life of virtue, and when my pilgrimage on earth is ended, may I be worthy of you in the sight of God and humankind. May God reward you for the faithfulness and kindness you have shown me. May God grant you eternal peace. Amen.

IN MEMORY OF A MOTHER

I remember you in this solemn hour, my dear mother. I remember the days when you lived on this earth. Your tender love watched over me like a guardian angel. You are gone from me, but the bond which unites our souls can never be severed; your image lives within my heart. May God reward you for the faithfulness and kindness you have shown me. May God grant you eternal peace. Amen.

IN MEMORY OF A HUSBAND

I remember you in this solemn hour, my dear companion. I remember the happy days we lived together, and your tender affection. Your love was my comfort, and your counsel was my support. Your image will always live in my heart and continue to be an inspiration to me. May God grant you eternal peace. Amen.

IN MEMORY OF A WIFE

I remember you in this solemn hour, my dear companion. Your memory now fills my soul. I treasure in my heart the thought of your love which sweetened the days of my life. Your image still lives within me and continues to be an inspiration. May God grant you eternal peace. Amen.

IN MEMORY OF A CHILD

I remember you in this solemn hour, my beloved child. I remember the days when I watched you grow and fostered beautiful hopes for your future. In my heart the treasured remembrance of you can never die. May God look with compassion upon you and grant you eternal peace. Amen.

IN MEMORY OF A BROTHER, SISTER, OR FRIEND

I remember you in this solemn hour, my beloved one. I remember the days when we were on this journey together. Your love and friendship were my delight and support. I think of you with gratitude and bless your memory. May God grant you eternal peace. Amen.

IN MEMORY OF THOSE WHO PERISHED IN THE HOLOCAUST AND THE MARTYRS OF OUR PEOPLE.

We recall with grief all Your children who have perished through the cruelty of the oppressor. They lie in nameless graves, in far-off forests and lonely fields, yet they shall not be forgotten. We take them into our hearts and give them a place beside the cherished memories of our own loved ones. They now are ours. May God grant them eternal peace. Amen.

O God full of compassion, Eternal Spirit of this universe, grant perfect rest under the wings of Your Presence to our loved ones who have entered eternity. God of Mercy, let them find refuge forever in the shadow of your wings, and let their souls be bound up in the bond of eternal life. The Eternal God is their inheritance. May they rest in peace, and let us say: Amen.

A MEDITATION BEFORE SAYING KADDISH

EPITAPH

When I've gone
If you need to weep
Weep for someone
Walking in the street beside you.

And when you need me,
Put your arms around anyone
And give them what you need to give to me.

You can love me most by letting Hands touch hands, and Souls touch souls.

You can love me most by Sharing your dreams and Multiplying your good deeds.

You can love me most by Letting me live in your eyes
And not in your mind.

And when you say Kaddish for me
Remember what our Torah teaches
Love doesn't die,
People do.
So, when all that's left of me is love,
Give me away.

God of all generations, at this hour of Memorial we are reminded that You are always with us, both in joy and sorrow in life and death.

At this hour of Yizkor, we pause to reflect upon the memories of our dear ones who have entered into the peace of death.

My God comfort all who are bereaved among us.

IN LOVING MEMORY

O, Lord, help us to understand that grief and love go hand in hand, that the sorrow of our loss is but the measure of a love that is stronger than death...
